Dear A.C.:

Now that our annual CEO video project is complete and rolling out in our offices across the globe, I wanted to take a moment to express my thanks for a job well done.

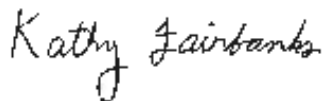

The final video production is very high caliber and we're getting a lot of positive feedback from our employees. I appreciate the effort by you and your team to ensure the timely completion of our video.

There are many creative elements in the video which make it a better product than we had in previous years with another producer. The audio was improved; our opening visual and music are much better; the work in converting green screen shots to other backgrounds worked great; the inserted video elements throughout add a lot of interest; and the transitions and other embedded elements make it look very high quality.

You were a true professional throughout the entire experience, adapting to changes and keeping me informed of progress. It was great being able to receive the interim video sections for review via the internet links you provided; that made life a lot easier for me, as the files could be accessed quickly, no matter where I was.

I enjoyed working and collaborating with you on this effort. Thanks again, and please pass my thanks to your entire team.

Sincerely,
